THE LATEST MAINE MILITIA.

They Are Tramping Towards the Capitol.

A Gatling Gun Guards the State House Door.

And a Martial Air Pervades Augusta.

THE MILITIA MOVES.

National Associated Press to the Star.
AUGUSTA, Jan. 24.—6 A. M.—Just before midnight the Richard's Light Infantry, of this city, received orders from Acting Adjutant General Nye to prepare to march to Augusta at a moment's notice. Captain Barry soon after arrived from Augusta, and the company at 12:30 a. m. started in teams for Augusta. It is reported that several other companies of militia are ordered to report at Augusta immediately.

A QUESTION OF QUESTIONS.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 24.—6 A. M.—The House Committee to Consider the Constitutional Condition of the Fusion Legislature, and present the situation, submitted a statement of facts, with three questions concerning the legality of the organization appended. At the meeting yesterday evening, after a reading of the statement which will be sent in full, this part of the committee's report was accepted and adopted. Mr. Perry of Camden, then moved to lay the rest of the report and questions upon the table, stating his object to be to give an opportunity for full discussion. It was voted to lay the questions on the table by a vote of 44 to 21.

WHITE HAS THE MEASLES.

Wallace R. White, whom his cousin, J. O. White, Thomas B. Swan and Morris Harriman charged with attempting to bribe them to give up their seats in the Fusion Legislature, is sick with the measles.

GATHERING OF FORCES.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 24.—NOR.—Governor Davis having received information that the Fusionists are recruiting men in the State with the intention of marching upon and if possible taking possession of the Capitol, has called out the Capital Guards of this city, the Richard Light Infantry, of Gardiner, and Auburn Light Infantry, numbering all told 120 men, and these are now quartered in the State-house.

The Capital Guards were called out last evening. The Gardiner company arrived in teams at 2 o'clock this morning, and the Auburn company arrived on the 5:25 a. m. train with a Gatling gun, the only one owned by the State.

Other militia companies are held in readiness to move at a moment's notice. The Republican leaders have certain received some information regarding the designs of the Fusionists which has occasioned this alarm.

The Kennebec Journal this morning, which is Blaine's organ, charges distinctly that the Fusionists are enlisting men in every county in the State and are organizing military companies which will be held in readiness to move at the call of Gov. Smith; that a Captain Black is drilling armed men nightly and that there is a determination to attack and capture the State House.

A TRICK OF THE BOYS.

The Fusionists say that these rumors have no foundation in fact, and say that they originated from the action of a party of boys in Augusta, who met in a small hall and pretended to drill, and caused sensational reports to be sent out in order to annoy or frighten Mayor Nash.

Last night they caused three-cornered pieces of paper to be tacked upon the fences throughout the city, and the Fusionists claim that this has been interpreted as a secret sign for an uprising.

GATLING GUN IN POSITION.

The troops are quartered in the State-house but kept secluded from the public, and none of them are visible to the ordinary visitors to the department.

The Gatling gun has been placed in the grounds facing the front entrance.

On the streets there are no signs of unusual excitement, but many of the Fusionists believe that it is the initiatory step of Governor Davis to disperse their Union Hall Legislature.

FUSIONISTS ADJOURN.

Both branches of the Fusionist Legislature have adjourned, with the understanding that enough members should remain in town to meet and adjourn from day to day until the decision of the Court is received.

GOVERNOR DAVIS INTERVIEWED.

The agent of the National Associated Press called on Governor Davis in the Executive Chamber of the State House at 1 p. m. to inquire about the report that he intended to break up the Fusion Legislature and place the members under arrest if they resisted.

Governor Davis stated that he intended to do nothing of the kind, nor to issue any proclamation for them to disperse until hearing further from the Supreme Court.

Four cow-boys from Moro, named Tom, Penes, James West, William Randall, and a fourth supposed to be Mannax Beard, came in on horseback armed with revolvers and Winchester rifles. After loading about town during the day, making threats against Chief of Police Carson for some offense he had given them in making an arrest a few days before, they attended a dance at night and openly abused Carson. The latter grabbed his revolver, but was shot in the arm before he could draw it. A second shot disabled his left arm, and a third entered his body. He staggered out and dropped dead upon the street. When he was picked up there were eight bullet-holes in his body.

His friends at once took up the fight, and at least thirty shots were fired. The lights were extinguished, and a scene followed which beggars description. Lead missiles fell like hail in the room. The citizens were aroused from their slumbers, and hastened at once to the scene. Randall and West, of the attacking party, were shot dead, but their two comrades escaped wounded. Randall has a sister, Miss Carrie Randall, living at 631 Baltic street, New York. Officer Mather, who assisted Carson, was slightly wounded. Carson was from Knoxville, Tenn. The greatest excitement prevails.

ELEVATED ACCIDENTS.

Disaster on the Metropolitan Road This Morning.

National Associated Press to the Star.
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—An accident occurred on the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad early this morning, by which seven persons, all employees of the road, were injured. The engine of an emigrant train which was conveying the employees down town, jumped the track between One Hundred and Forty-third and One Hundred and Forty-fourth streets, owing to a misplaced switch. Two of the persons were seriously hurt and sent to the hospital. The emigrant train consisted of the engine and one car. It leaves the extreme upper end of the road at 1 o'clock every morning to pick up the employees and bring them down town.

It is believed that two of the men injured by the Elevated Railroad accident this morning will die.
There was a collision on the same road last Thursday morning, near One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street on Eighth avenue. The crash drove the driving wheels of one of the locomotives from the rails, but the damage was slight.

Colonel John Harold, of Brooklyn, who was injured by a collision on the Third-avenue Railroad some time ago, brought suit for $50,000 damages.

ARBITRATION COMMITTEE.

Decision Decidedly in Favor of the Junction Bondholders.

The Arbitration Committee in what is known as the Junction Railroad Bonds case gave their decision at 12 o'clock.

The Committee consisted of Judge Cox, M. E. Ingalls and Charles Adams, who, after hearing the evidence and arguments in the case, took a trip over the C. H. & D. and the C. H. & I. Roads.

They took into consideration all the conditions, prospects, obligations and net earning capacity of both roads, but the essential question to be passed upon related to the practical strength of the C. H. & D. Road as compared with the financial liabilities to which under any award which might be made would make it subject hereafter.

To reach a conclusion the operations of the road for a series of years were examined into, and the conclusion reached that the C. H. & D. could not be made a dividend. The following are the conditions of the decision:

The C. H. & D. Railroad Company upon the surrender by the holders thereof of all the overdue and unpaid coupons on the bonds of the C. H. & I. Railroad Company shall pay in full all coupons which have been thus surrendered.

All coupons already matured and unpaid and all interest on its bonds have a small surplus as a dividend. The following are the conditions of the decision:

The C. H. & D. Railroad Company upon the surrender by the holders thereof of all the overdue and unpaid coupons on the bonds of the C. H. & I. Railroad Company shall pay in full all coupons which have been thus surrendered.

issued under this award shall not entitle the holders to vote in the meeting of that Company. The costs of other proceedings, so far as the fees and expenses of the arbitrators are concerned, are assessed at $2,500, as follows: $1,000 each to the resident arbitrators and $1,500 to the non-resident, Mr. Adams, and to the Clerk of the Board $100; one-half of this sum, in accordance with the said agreement, to be paid by each party.

THE LICKETT MURDER.

Coroner's Inquest Held in Newport This Morning.

Coroner Schoolfield, of Campbell County, Ky., summoned a jury this morning, and commenced an inquest on the body of Jacob Lickett, who died yesterday at 2 o'clock.

The following witnesses were examined: Eva Lickett, wife of deceased; John Lang, Adam Bonhijo, George Krauss, and Fred. Bismark.

Mrs. Lickett stated that her husband left home on the evening of January 21st, but did not know where he was going. About two hours later her little daughter came running home and said her father was shot, and that Geyer told her that he shot him. They met at Munninghoff's saloon, got quarreling about children, Lickett called him (Geyer) a liar; Geyer wanted him to take it back and Lickett refused. Met a gain on Ann and Tibbatts streets where Geyer shot him. He lived forty-two hours and forty minutes.

Mr. Munninghoff testified as to the quarrel between the parties in his saloon and of hearing the shot about twenty minutes later. Mr. Bonhijo testified as to the excited manner of Geyer when he came to his house Wednesday night last and told him about the shooting and his promising to go immediately and give himself up. The balance of the testimony was in substance the same as that already published.

Dr. Bennett, Thornton, Jr., and Schoolfield, Jr., held a post-mortem, with the following result: The ball entered about three inches below a collar-bone and a little left of the median line; thence downward and inward, perforating the lung, which latter was the cause of his death. The physicians concluded it was unnecessary to search further for the ball, but it is supposed to have lodged in the spinal column.

A portion of the red flannel shirt worn by the deceased was carried in by the ball and found lodged in the lung. The jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to his death from a pistol ball fired from a revolver in the hands of Jacob Geyer.

Is It Infanticide?

About the middle of last month a woman named Mary Reynolds, accompanied by a man who gave his name as Alex. Reynolds, and who said he was an engineer on a steamboat, took lodgings at the Schneider House, corner of Pearl and Broadway.

The man left enough money with the Reynolds woman to pay her board for a couple of weeks, and promised to be back by the middle of this month.

Yesterday morning Mary Reynolds failed to appear at breakfast, and Mrs. Schneider went to her room and found the lady in bed. She told Mrs. Schneider that during the night she had given birth to a child, and that after seeing it was dead wrapped it up and laid it in a corner of the room. Mrs. Schneider sent for Dr. Brown, of Third and Lawrence streets, and he relieved her as far as possible.

The Coroner was notified and investigated the case. He found the baby to be a full-grown, healthy male child and therefore ordered a post-mortem examination to be held to ascertain whether the child was alive or not. There seems to be a slight opinion that the woman was not married and that there is something wrong in the matter.
